Lake Erie, the shallowest of the Great Lakes with an average depth of 62 feet, is home to more than 1,700 shipwrecks, of which only 277 have been found. The wrecks highlighted here are located just off the shore of Kelleys Island and are easily viewable by the public. Exploration is encouraged!

For more information about other Lake Erie shipwrecks visit www.ohioshipwrecks.org.

Dive slates for all three wrecks are available through Ohio Sea Grant at a cost of $15 per set or $10 per set when 10 or more are purchased. For more information call 614-292-8949.
